This week many children, including in after school Club, will be continuing to collect bio-diversity data and check that our youngest trees are growing well and protected from ivy. Mr Peetoom's class have been leading the way and photos will be out in next week's newsletter.

Meanwhile, work has restarted on seed planting and sorting the edges and front of school.

Please be Punctual After a huge improvement since February, last week a number of children were arriving late again. It is frustrating for teachers who want to get lessons started.
